TechMart Company Report

Company Overview

TechMart is an e-commerce company specializing in electronics, home appliances, and accessories. The company serves customers across India through its online platform.

Sales Performance

During the last three months, TechMart experienced a 15 percent decline in online sales. Analysis suggests that reduced website traffic, increased cart abandonment, and stronger competition contributed to the decline.

The marketing team observed a 20 percent decrease in paid advertising conversions compared to the previous quarter.

Customer Insights

Customer surveys revealed that users were dissatisfied with slow page loading times and limited product recommendations.

The most popular product category remains smartphones, followed by laptops and smart home devices.

Recommendations

1. Improve website performance. 2. Optimize checkout flow. 3. Increase personalized recommendations. 4. Strengthen digital marketing campaigns. 5. Monitor competitor pricing strategies.
